

Puzzle: Who am I?

Clue 1:

I am a black and white mammal, found only in the Himalayas. Though I am much smaller than my distant cousin, the Giant Panda, I love to munch on bamboo. My population is rapidly declining, and I am considered endangered.

Who am I?

---

Clue 2:

I am a magnificent feline that prefers the dense forests of the Western Ghats. My coat is deep yellow with black stripes, and I am the state animal of Karnataka. Unfortunately, my habitat is shrinking, putting me at risk.

Who am I?

---

Clue 3:

I am a unique amphibian, found only in the Western Ghats. Known as a "purple frog," I spend most of my life underground and emerge only for a few days during the monsoon to breed. My lineage dates back over 100 million years!

Who am I?

---

Clue 4:

I am a majestic bird with a vibrant blue throat, spotted only in the Gir forests of Gujarat. I symbolize pride and conservation, and I'm also the national bird of a neighboring country. With fewer than 700 of us left, we are critically endangered.

Who am I?